BARRETT PAVING MATERIALS, INC.

Paving the way to a greener future...

Company History

Our culture and heritage are based on over 150 years of manufacturing and construction experience, from streets paved with wooden blocks to modern interstate highways. When the age of the automobile arrived in the early 20th Century, Barrett leadership developed and promoted paving materials that met the growing need for improved roads. Our history explains our organization's deeply rooted commitment to quality, innovation and customer service. This foundation has allowed Barrett to continue paving the way to a successful future.

Barrett Paving Materials is a subsidiary of Barrett Industries Corporation. The Barrett Paving Materials Mid-Ohio Region includes operations in Ohio and Indiana with six aggregate production facilities, three sand and gravel operations and three stone quarries. We also operate three ready-mix concrete facilities under Spring Creek Corporation in the Sidney, New Bremen and Celina, Ohio areas. Our strategic locations make it possible to supply aggregate and ready-mix concrete to our markets in an effective and efficient manner. In providing materials for private, commercial and public works markets, Barrett continues to grow in its experience and expertise.

Safety and environmental stewardship are important values at Barrett. Our excellent safety performance is a direct result of our extensive safety program which includes company-wide training and a safety officer in each of our operating regions. All of our aggregate and ready-mix concrete facilities have earned national recognition for environmental practices, safety, permitting and regulatory compliance, appearance and community relations.

Barrett's Core Principles

Environmental Stewardship

Barrett Paving is committed to protecting the environment at our mining locations. This commitment starts when a quarry is opened and continues through its closing and transition to another useful purpose. This reclaimed former quarry in Fairborn, Ohio now provides a habitat for local wildlife.

Innovative Safety Leadership - Tunnel over Haddix Road

In Fairborn, Ohio, Barrett Paving installed a fully enclosed tunnel conveyor to allow for the safe transportation of aggregate over Haddix Road to the processing plant located on the other side. This provides the motoring public a safe, clean and unobstructed roadway through the plant area.

With Barrett's long history, our clients can rely on our experience and expertise to help them successfully complete and maintain projects. Additionally, our integrated resource capability has enabled us to continually grow and adapt in order to meet the demands placed on today's infrastructure and budgets.
